NEW SEELOS WELCOME CENTER IN THE MAKING!

Some thought it could only happen when pigs fly; but, when Father Seelos is involved, anything's possible! In December 2007, legal documents were signed and recorded with the city of New Orleans that establishes a long-term lease between the Redemptorists & Historic Restoration, Inc. to allow for the rehabilitation of three buildings surrounding St. Mary's Assumption Church for low-income senior citizen housing, as they were used before Hurricane Katrina. A fourth building, also vacant since the storm -- the former School Sisters of Notre Dame Convent adjacent to the Church -- was removed from this lease arrangement. It has now been returned to the Redemptorists unencumbered for the purpose of creating a new Seelos Welcome Center. If all goes well, the building could possibly be completed & readied for use in the spring of 2009.

So far in 2008, a building committee has been appointed by the Redemptorists, a general contractor for the project has been selected and mobilized, and architectural plans are being finalized for the construction phase to begin adapting this 3-story building for the Shrine's ministerial needs. The building will include exhibit space and orientation theater for visitors, offices, gift shop, Seelos archives, and chapel. There was a desire to make some exterior changes to this old convent, which was built during the Depression era. Our consultant proposed those changes to a member of the local Historic District Landmarks Commission who said that any changes to the exterior of this building "would be like putting lipstick on a pig!" To that we can only say, "Flattery will get you nowhere!" Still, if you would like to help with some badly needed "cosmetic" improvements to our building, please respond to our special Appeal inside this newsletter. We would be grateful as pigs in a blanket!

DID YOU KNOW?

As Father Seelos' reputation for holiness & prayerful intercession continues to spread, statues of his likeness have recently been commissioned for Our Lady of Perpetual Help Redemptorist Church in Kansas City, MO; Blessed Sacrament Church, Kansas City, KS; St. Michael Church, Chicago, IL; and Blessed Seelos Parish, Biloxi, MS. A year before Hurricane Katrina, Holy Spirit Catholic Church in Vancleave, Mississippi was dedicated, and in the fall of 2007, this stained glass window of Blessed Seelos was installed.

Message from the Editor

Imitation may be the highest form of flattery, but saints prefer the highest form of imitation ... for Christ's sake! Saints not only invite imitation, but also offer inspiration, and in recent years, it has been phenomenal to learn how Blessed Francis Seelos has engendered himself to so many. Children have been named after him, candidates for Confirmation have taken on his name, novices have selected his name at profession of vows -- even a few vessels at sea are christened in his honor!

Cardinal John J. Wright wrote that "the saint comes and lives the very life of Christ, as it were, before the eyes of those who share the saint's circumstances, work, manner and condition of life." He added that a great gift and function of the saints is that because of them, "the living likeness" of Christ never quite disappears from the earth. "The saint represents the life of Christ so that each of us, seeing both something of Christ & something of ourselves in the saint" discover how Christ would have lived if He were here to share our walk in life.

As more and more people relate Father Seelos' alluring personality and spirituality to their own circumstances, work, manner and condition of life, may they come to rest in the curve of Father Seelos' warm smile, for in him, our eyes continually behold the gentleness of Christ our Redeemer.

Byron Miller, C.Ss.R.

Father Seelos,
help us rest in the curve
of your warm smile!

Father Seelos was a tireless sacramental priest. For instance, he was ordained only a few years when he performed 76 marriages and 167 baptisms in 1847; a year later, 74 marriages and 203 baptisms. This original certificate with Father Seelos' signature belongs to the Richard Carver family of New Iberia, LA; it indicates that their ancestor, Julia Santzenberger received her First Communion in May 1867 in New Orleans.

At Last ... Fr. Seelos in his own hand!

Sincerely,
Seelos

Now Available!

The Redemptorist Provincial requested that Father Seelos curtail his enthusiasm for letter writing. Fortunately for us, this request came just one year before Seelos' death in 1867. He leaves behind a collection of 201 extant letters that reflects his spirituality & sanctity, and a compendium that represents the life and the times.

TESTIMONIALS

SLIDELL, LA

My son was given a year or so to live because of leukemia, diabetes, nephrophy, etc., and he was exposed to Agent Orange while serving in Vietnam as a Marine. He could hardly walk or barely get in & out of bed without help lifting his legs. He needed 24-hour care, regular blood transfusions and was on oxygen. I brought him to the Seelos Center in January where he was blessed with the Seelos Cross and the very next day he was able to get out of bed on his own; since that day, he has improved at least 98%. Everyone is shocked & happy to see his health improvement. Special thanks to Joyce Bourgeois for the beautiful prayer she said. Call it what you want, but to my family & me, this was a miracle. It was not the first time: in 1966, my father was going to lose his leg and a Redemptorist priest came to the hospital and blessed him with the Seelos Cross and he did not lose his leg.

ANNAPOLIS, MD

About 5 months ago, I had a serious fall. I broke a vertebrae and have been in a rigid and uncomfortable neck brace ever since. Until yesterday! I was not healing properly and on the monthly visits to the doctor (prior to yesterday), the lack of progress was very discouraging. My daughter & her husband took an anniversary trip to New Orleans a week ago & I insisted they visit the Fr. Seelos Shrine, as he has been my "favorite" since he was beatified and I have really been "bugging" him for help. My daughter not only visited the Shrine but brought me back a 1st class relic of Fr. Seelos. So the evening before my appointment, I touched the relic to my neck. The next day I got a very positive report from the doctor. In addition to evidence of "healing," he took off the rigid brace in favor of a "soft" one with a lot more latitude in wearing same. The good report I got on this visit I attribute to Fr. Seelos' intervention. And I want to publicly express my appreciation. Technically, it might not have been a "miracle," but as far as I'm concerned, it was.

MORGAN CITY, LA

I was diagnosed with lung cancer in March 2007. At M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston, I learned that I had spots on my brain and possibly bone and a lymph node as well. A friend gave me relics of Bl. Seelos and I began praying daily, almost constantly to him with my petition for a healing. In late March I had successful brain surgery for the one tumor, so Fr. Seelos was there for me. At my follow-up in May, a spot was discovered that was missed in the scan from March because it was so tiny. I decided to give my brain issues to Bl. Seelos at that point and in June went forward with a stereotactic procedure. All my anxiety & fears were totally removed from me at the point of my releasing to Fr. Seelos, and 6 months later, a scan shows my brain free & clear of any new or unseen tumors. Now, my most recent visit shows the lung tumor shrinking, the suspicious bone (spots) healing and the lymph node is much smaller. What a gift from God! I feel strongly that Bl. Seelos played a role in what has happened to give me good health & this gift.

On May 12, 2008 the U. S. Postal Service increased prices for mailings as it did in May 2007. In addition, paper/envelope costs have increased dramatically in recent months. The Seelos Center is committed to offering a monthly newsletter, but these factors beyond our control have necessitated some changes beginning with the mailing of this issue. Thank you for your understanding in the matter. Your consideration of a $12 donation to help defray the annual costs of printing & mailing this newsletter is greatly appreciated.

ATHENS, GA

My wife, Jean, suffered a massive stroke on February 15. She was in the intensive care unit for a week before they decided that nothing could be done for her medically since the damage to her brain was so extensive. We opted for home hospice care. Upon arriving home, Jean insisted on holding the first class relic of Bl. Seelos, which we had obtained several years ago. She held this relic constantly until her peaceful death on March 11. She said that the relic removed the pain. The nurses could not believe how little pain medication she was taking. Jean just showed them the relic and told them that this was her pain medication. Jean died very peacefully about 20 minutes after receiving the viaticum and while I was reciting the rosary.

ODESSA, TX

My precious mother, whom I share with 15 other siblings, has had an 18-year battle with melanoma. On August 15, 2007, my mother submitted to her 19th & most severe surgery. My friend had told me about Bl. Seelos and had even sent my mother a relic. Every day, I pray to him & our Blessed Virgin on behalf of my mother's health. I pray that the cancer does not metastasize into her lymph nodes or bones. After the 10-hour surgery, removing about 1/3 of her face & grafting skin from elsewhere (she had already lost her nose), she not only recovered, but left the hospital in 7 days. She was able to attend the wedding of her youngest son in September. On April 22, 2008, my mother's surgeon at Roswell Cancer Hospital (Buffalo, NY) examined her (and he freely admits that she has defied the odds), and announced that he saw no surface signs of her melanoma! My mother then confided to me that she rubs her entire face every evening with the Bl. Seelos relic.
